Greetings from the Carleton University Ecumenical Chaplaincy!

The influx of new and returning students into the City of Ottawa and into Carleton University has happened. Please include prayers for all students in transition and if you could maintain those prayers through Thanksgiving, that would be very helpful.

As you may know, the Chaplaincy has a limited budget. An important part of our ministry to the students is always having a pot of coffee on and a cookie to go with the coffee. Are there people in your congregation who like to bake? The occasional gift of home baking would mean cookies that the Chaplaincy doesn't have to buy, but, more importantly, it shows the students that the wider church community cares about them.

For more information about the Chaplaincy, please visit www.carleton.ca/ecumenicalchaplaincy/

To reach the Chaplain, please call 613-520-4449 or write to wayne_menard@carleton.ca.

It's never too late to have a happy childhood. But the second one is up to you and no one else.
